Tribble Creative Group
Ignites Style with Tribble Too

CHARLOTTE – When preparing for a wedding or any social occasion, the process is very personal. It’s about style, it’s about one’s experience, and no doubt, it’s about the budget. In this spirit comes the launch of Tribble Too, a new social division of Tribble Creative Group. The service draws upon the company’s 25 years of event experience to offer creatively crafted packages for weddings and other social celebrations.

Tribble Too takes the guesswork out of the planning process by including set style packages with streamlined options so that the planning experience can be fun for the individual.

“Tribble Too options don’t end with our packages, says Tribble’s Cassie Brown, director of events. “Changes can be made. Our sole focus is on the individual and we want them to design their perfect occasion.”
